Teachers, are you looking for a fun enrichment opportunity this summer? Earn professional development hours while enjoying two engaging days of all-new content on the federal courts!

Meet a judge, observe court, and hear from fascinating guest speakers. Participate in fun interactive activities and take an in-depth tour of the historic federal courthouse. Dive into student-directed critical thinking methodology and learn how to incorporate this invaluable skill into Supreme Court case analysis. Gain practical knowledge of the federal court system and leave the event with new ideas for classroom activities, lesson plans, and a myriad of useful resources!

The workshop is designed for middle school and high school teachers. Space is limited – register early to reserve a seat!
